Amanda Farmer: Hello, and welcome. I'm Amanda Farmer, your podcast host, and this week, I am also your Summit host. The 2020 Shared Space Summit has kicked off this week. This is the world's first online summit for strata property owners. We started on Tuesday, the 15th of September. We will be running the Summit until Friday the 18th. If you are listening to this during that week, and you don't know what I'm talking about, what is going on? Where have you been? Get your act together. You need to get yourself over to yourstrataproperty.com.au/summit, get your free summit ticket, and start catching up. I am sharing interviews with 9 world-leading experts on community, property, and law. We are hearing from bestselling author, Charles Vogl, New South Wales Building Commissioner, David Chandler, award-winning strata manager, Reena Van Aalst, Cat Carmichael, the former President of the Community Associations Institute in the US, Dr. Alex Morris, an Associate Fellow with the British Psychological Society, and so many more.

At the time that I am recording this episode, we are hovering around 900 people registered to attend the summit. Will we get to 1,000? I think we just might. This is the largest online gathering of strata property owners ever in the world. Are you with us? I hope so. Now on the last day of the summit, that's Friday, the 18th of September at 11:00 AM, I'm going to be delivering my own summit session live via webinar. If you are registered for the Summit, you will have already heard from me on this, and you should have a link to join me live. If you're not yet registered, get that underway, and you too will have the opportunity to join me live via webinar, Friday 11:00 AM Eastern Standard Time.

My session is all about dysfunctional communities. Is your strata community really dysfunctional? What does it take to have a compulsory managing agent or an administrator appointed? And what are the other options that might be available to fix a broken community? If you want to join me on that webinar on Friday, the 18th of September, head over to yourstrataproperty.com.au/summit, get your free summit ticket, and I will let you know how to join me live on Friday, as well as how to catch everyone of our other summit sessions. Speaking of live video, I am also live each afternoon this week over on the Your Strata Property Facebook page, hearing from you how you're implementing each of the lessons you're learning from our summit guest experts, what action are you taking in your own communities?

The Summit is not just about information. It is about action and our Summit guests are sharing so much gold. There is so much that I personally want to implement in my own community after this Summit. If you are on Facebook, you can find us there by typing into the Facebook search bar, Your Strata Property, and you will see our page. That is also the place where I'm bringing you even more guest experts live. And as always, I am happy to answer your strata questions there too. Come on by, I would love to see you. Many people have asked me, "Amanda, is the Summit really only available for a week? What if I don't have time to watch all the Summit sessions this week?" Well, the summit does close at 5:00 PM on Friday. The good news is if you are a member of the Your Strata Property, online community, you will continue to get access to all the summit sessions. I am popping them over in our members-only video library at the end of this week.

If you are not yet a member, then head over to stratamembership.com, because for this week only, just while the summit is open, we are welcoming new members into our community. This is the only online community of strata owners and strata managers that is supported by a team of strata experts, led by me, a qualified practicing strata lawyer. We are answering your questions in our Q&A forum, giving you access to the templates, the tools, the resources that you need to ensure peaceful and profitable apartment living. You'll find all the details over at stratamembership.com, including the Summit bonus.

This bonus is especially for you because you're joining our online community this week as part of the Summit. The bonus is your Summit Souvenir Playbook. I have prepared a complete list of key takeaways from each summit session, and the action steps that you can take in your communities to implement precisely what our summit guests are sharing in their interviews.
